This picture is a puppy picture. It has been altered to show the color Mya was when she was taken. She will have more hair and will be darker as she ages. The white markings on her face will be smaller and harder to see with age.

To All Veterinarians and Staff,

Please help me to find Mya. We believe that whoever has her will eventually take her to a vet to be spayed or revaccinated. It may be many weeks or months before this happens. Please check any new female sheltie that comes through your door. Mya's microchip number is AVID*092*553*024 AVID has been contacted and she has been listed with them as missing/stolen. When Mya is found, no matter how much time has passed, I will contact everyone. Please leave the flier up and please keep scanning. Please pass the word on to other veterinarians in your area, I am doing my best to get the word out but I can't reach everyone without your help.

Thank you for your understanding and kindness,

Emily Langley
